Measures for the Formulation of Enrollment Plans

To promote the sound development of education at Jiujiang University, rationally optimize and allocate higher education resources, make the formulation of enrollment plans better adapt to the university's development needs, and enhance the scientific nature of enrollment plan compilation, these Measures are hereby formulated.

I. Guiding Ideology

The University shall conscientiously implement the enrollment policies issued by the Ministry of Education and the People's Government of Jiangxi as well as the Department of Education of Jiangxi, manage enrollment plans in accordance with annual superior requirements, and realize the unity of enrollment scale, development speed, quality and efficiency.

II. Basis for Plan Formulation

1. Annual enrollment plans are directly issued to the University by the Jiangxi Provincial Department of Education.

2. The overall enrollment scale of each college and each major shall be formulated in accordance with the University's medium and long-term development goals, the annual enrollment implementation of each major in secondary colleges, overall training capacity and graduate employment status.

3. Provincial-specific enrollment plans shall be formulated according to the historical implementation of enrollment plans and voluntary application statistics of each province.

4. In strict compliance with relevant regulations of the Ministry of Education and Jiangxi Provincial Department of Education, majors with low graduate employment rates shall be controlled, reduced or even suspended from enrollment.

III. Procedures for Plan Formulation

1. At the beginning of each spring semester, the Academic Affairs Office shall determine the majors available for enrollment in the current year according to relevant university documents and routine practice, and submit them to the University for approval.

2. After the provincial enrollment plan is issued, the Enrollment and Employment Office shall conduct a comprehensive analysis of school-running conditions, historical enrollment performance and graduate employment of each secondary college. Following consultation with relevant units, it shall put forward the principles and preliminary arrangement of enrollment plans, which shall be submitted to the University Enrollment Leading Group for approval to determine the total enrollment quota of each college.

3. Each secondary college shall allocate enrollment quotas for respective majors based on the approved total quota.

4. The Enrollment and Employment Office shall compile provincial and major-specific enrollment plans combining historical enrollment data of each major across provinces.

5. The Enrollment and Employment Office shall submit the compiled enrollment plans to the Jiangxi Provincial Department of Education and provincial enrollment authorities, and verify the data to ensure accuracy of publicly released enrollment plans.

6. During the submission process, minor adjustments may be made by the Enrollment and Employment Office according to opinions raised by provincial enrollment competent authorities.

These Measures shall take effect on the date of issuance.

Measures for the Allocation and Management of Reserved Enrollment Quotas

I. Guiding Ideology

In accordance with the regulations of the Ministry of Education, undergraduate universities with cross-provincial enrollment may reserve a certain number of enrollment quotas within the state-approved annual enrollment scale to balance the uneven distribution of qualified candidates across provinces. These Measures are formulated to ensure the open, fair and standardized use of reserved quotas and guarantee the quality of admitted students. Fully implement the requirements of the Ministry of Education and Jiangxi Provincial Department of Education, strengthen the administration and supervision of reserved quota use, and ensure the arrangement is scientific, fair and open.

II. Quota Scale

The reserved enrollment quota for regular undergraduate programs shall not exceed 1% of the total annual enrollment plan. The quota shall be reviewed by the University and submitted to the provincial competent authority for approval.

III. Principles for Quota Use

1. Reserved quotas shall be preferentially allocated to provinces with sufficient high-quality candidates.

2. Reserved quotas shall be used for admitting candidates who reach the filing score line, obey major adjustment and exceed the planned enrollment number in parallel voluntary provinces.

IV. Allocation Procedures

1. Special personnel shall be assigned to keep complete records of the transfer and adjustment of reserved quotas.

2. Any use of reserved quotas shall be reported to the admission working group and approved in accordance with formal procedures. In case of special circumstances, verbal or SMS approval is allowed, which shall be noted on the official approval form afterwards.

3. Unfulfilled enrollment quotas in some provinces shall be recalled in a timely manner and incorporated into the unified management of reserved quotas.

4. Special staff shall complete quota adjustment on the official enrollment platform of the Ministry of Education. All completed adjustment records shall be printed, signed and filed for archive management.

These Measures shall take effect on the date of issuance.

Measures for the Confirmation of Admitted Majors of Candidates

The confirmed admission major largely determines students' professional knowledge learning and future employment orientation, and is a key concern of candidates and parents. In accordance with the basic principles stipulated by the Ministry of Education and the University's enrollment regulations, these Measures are formulated to ensure fair, impartial and reasonable major allocation for admitted candidates.

General Undergraduate Candidates

Admission for liberal arts and science candidates shall follow the principle of priority of scores and compliance with professional volunteers. All candidates with filing qualifications shall be admitted in descending order of total scores. If the first major volunteer cannot be satisfied, the second one will be considered by analogy. Candidates whose all volunteers cannot be satisfied and who obey major adjustment will be assigned to unfilled majors. Those who do not obey adjustment shall be withdrawn from admission.

In Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region, admission shall be conducted by ranking candidates according to professional volunteers within the 1:1 enrollment plan scope. For provinces implementing college entrance examination reform, admission shall comply with local policies and university enrollment regulations, with comprehensive quality evaluation taken as reference. For provinces adopting college-major group filing mode, candidates shall be admitted by score priority and volunteer preference within the admitted major group.

Art Majors

Admission shall adopt provincial unified art examination results. Candidates who reach the minimum cultural admission score and pass the professional examination shall follow local admission rules if stipulated; if not stipulated, admission shall be arranged by comprehensive score.

Comprehensive Score = Total Cultural Score $\times$ 50% + (Professional Score / Full Professional Score) $\times$ 750 $\times$ 50%

In case of equal comprehensive scores, ranking shall be conducted successively by total cultural score, total score of Chinese and Mathematics, single highest score of Chinese or Mathematics, and foreign language score.

Physical Education Majors

Candidates with qualified professional performance and reaching the minimum cultural admission standard shall follow local admission rules if stipulated; otherwise, admission shall be arranged by professional score in descending order.

In case of equal professional scores, ranking shall be conducted successively by total cultural score, total score of Chinese and Mathematics, single highest score of Chinese or Mathematics, and foreign language score.

These Measures shall take effect on the date of issuance.
